With Fr. Ricardo Pineda

Reflective Questions

“Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father is in me,”
Jn. 18:11.

1. Father Ricardo talks about how we sometimes fall into the trap of believing that God loves us conditionally for what we do and loves us less when we sin or make mistakes. When in your life have you struggled with feeling like God loves you conditionally?
2. We sometimes tend to view God incorrectly because of the way our earthly parents acted in our childhood. In what ways have your experiences with your parents shaped your view of God?
3. There are many lies we can come to believe about God, about ourselves, and about our relationship with Him. What lies about these things have you believed in your life?
4. In exchange for these lies that we have believed about ourselves, God can give us the truth. What truth might God be giving you in exchange for these lies?
